Social Projects

2011- OPERATION: Bring Art to the People is a project that I started here in Jacksonville to share the power of art with the masses through random art drops, murals, social media, blogging, & other public art efforts. The art drops/hunts were inspired by Chicago artist Patrick Skoff who was doing Art Hunts in his city and by doing the hunts, he was able to expose & connect new people to the art scene which is what I hope to accomplish here in Jacksonville.
